Under Southern Skies.

When Lottie Blair Parker wrote "Way Down East," managers predicted a great future for her, but most of the "wise ones" thought Mrs. Parker produced all that she possessed and would never equal this play. Mrs. Parker, who is a very shrewd business woman, thought of that old maxim "say nothing but saw wood." She sawed, and sawed, and when finished turned out "Under Southern Skies" which duplicated the success of her former effort, and was considered by many a bigger success. Mrs. Parker laughed at the prophets who said she "produced all she possessed" in her first big success, but still said nothing and may be on another sawing expedition. "Under Southern Skies" will be presented at the Barre opera house Thursday, April 28.

Notice to Tax Payers.

Every tax payer is required by law, under penalties provided therein, to fill out, sign, swear to and deliver the proper inventory to the assessors. Some workmen who have signed a card handed to them by their employer for the purpose of obtaining their name and proper address have not an impression that they have completed their duty by so doing. To meet the requirements of law they must come to the assessors' office in City Hall and deliver the sworn inventory. The time in which to do this is growing short.

Hearst and the Coal Trust.

Washington, April 23.—The attorney general has been brooding over that evidence like an old hen on a door-knob for eighteen months. He has not acted in any way and won't let anybody take it away from him. Representative William Randolph Hearst made this statement before the house committee on the judiciary in arguing for a favorable report on his resolution calling on the attorney general for the evidence against the anthracite coal carrying railroads. The committee referred the Hearst resolution to a subcommittee consisting of Representatives Powers of Massachusetts, Thomas of Iowa and Smith of Kentucky for further consideration.
